Location

Fun Places

Night Market

Night Market is one of the important representatives of Taiwan's local culture. Night market is the fair at night. Located in Luo Dong, Yilan county, Luo Dong Tourist Night Market is not only a good place for locals to go shopping but also the tongue-tantalizing traditional Taiwan snack food make it a must-go for both locals and tourists.

Meihua Lake

Meihua Lake is located in Dongshan Township, Yilan County. Other tourist areas such as Jhong Shan Agriculture Leisure Area, Jhong Shan Water Falls, Ren Shan Nursery, and Dajin Agriculture Leisure Area are in its neighborhood. Set in the foothills leading to Meihua Lake, National Taoist Temple appears with its magnificent architecture, attracts worshipers and tourists year round. With its beautiful scenery of mountain and lake, Meihua Lake is a serene place to visit.

Sky-Watching Dune

It's located at the highest point of the Luo-Dong Sports Park. It's shaped like a volcano. You can see the whole Sports Park and the Turtle Island from the Dune during the day time and starry sky during the night.

Fishing Pond

It's a recreational place built for families and friends to get together for outdoor fishing and barbecuing. You can either catch and grill fish yourself or order assorted seafood and deserts from the kitchen.

Juiliao River Trail

Juiliao River Trail is located in the Juiliao River Natural Ecology Education Park. The trail is along the Juiliao River with the length of 1.8 km. It's surrounded by the subtropical forest, connected by 4 drawbridges, and lead to 2 beautiful waterfalls. It's great for hiking and outdoor education.

Ren Mountain (Renshan) Botanical Garden

Occupying an area of about 100 hectares, the Ren Mountain (Renshan) Botanical Garden is located due north of the Central Mountain Range at an elevation between 50m and 500m. There are good hiking and recreational facilities inside the garden attracting people to go hiking there often.

Place

Nine Liao River Trail

我最喜歡走九寮溪步道。在走步道時，配上原住民傳統飲食和涼爽的飲品，更是絕配呀。

Good Food

Fruits in Taiwan

Located in the subtropical and tropical regions with mild climate and abundant rainfall, Taiwan is originally a good place for growing fruits. Coupled with the continuous improvement in fruit varieties and innovations in cultivation technology, Taiwan produces not only a wide range of fruit, production of high quality fruit also increased year by year. Taiwan is called the Kingdom of fruit.

Jelly Grass

People in Taiwan make Chinese mesona (or meosona) juice as summer drink. They take a small amount of dry stems and leaves of mesona and boil with water to become mesona juice; they boil filtered Chinese mesona juice with a small amount of starch to become mesona jelly; and they boil mesona jelly and add in red bean, peanut...to become hot mesona jelly. With its unique favor, mesona juice and deserts are really luscious and mouth-watering.

Taiwanese Breakfast

Sweet or salty soy milk, sweet rice milk, sweet or salty fan tuan (rice ball), turnip cakes, egg pancake, twisted cruller, shaobing (Chinese flat bread), and various flavor buns.

Shaobing (Taiwanese flat bread) is a long soft bread with sesame seeds on top. It can be filled with cruller, eggs, etc.

Dan Bing (Taiwanese Style Pancake) is a very thin tortilla pan fried with egg and green onion.

Fantuan (Taiwanese rice ball) is made of sticky rice filled with cruller and many other ingredients. It can either be sweet or salty.

Mantou (Taiwanese bun) is steamed bun without any filling. It can be many different flavors: milk, chocolate, taro, wheat, etc. It can be eaten alone or cut open to fill with desired ingredients.

Baozi (Taiwanese burger) is a steamed bun filled with meat, vegetable, red beans, or sesame paste.

Youtiao (Taiwanese cruller) is a long deep-fried dough stick. It's an ingredient of many breakfast dishes, or it can be dipped in hot soy milk. Doujiang (Soy milk) can be hot, cold, sweet, or salty. This is the most common beverage for Taiwanese breakfast.

Mijiang (Rice milk) is made of roasted rice. It's sweet with dark brown color. It can be served either hot or cold.
